

Dear Sir/Ms.:

I am delighted to learn that you are interested in how my band is enriching children lives in our community!

My name is Author Joi Ford. I am one of the co-creators of Joyriffic Band along with Mark Rose and Judy Shepard. We have the same vision and passion for writing children's music. We look forward to delighting children with a host of fun and educational songs that will be enjoyed by children and adults.

Joi Ford is a classically trained musician with more than 20 years of teaching experience with children from pre-K through eighth grade.

Mark Rose is also an educator who has a degree in Music Education and a degree in Piano Technology and Judy Shepard is a gifted and talented singer-songwriter and international performer. Helping children to grow and become the Amazing people that they were created to be has been our life's work!

We have been given the gift of words that captivate the hearts and minds of young children. Additionally, we have an ear to hear what excites children to learn.

Our books, CD's and other video productions have delighted, entertained and educated children everywhere. Teachers across the nation have embraced my books, songs and other educational products to help facilitate the learning process for their preschoolers and early elementary school students – in some cases, to help improve their recall of important basic foundational information.

Please find below the descriptions of our four newly published books:

The book, "My Friend Dean Is A Chef" is a delightful book for preschoolers that takes them inside the many talents of a chef. It is a beautifully illustrated book that will pique a child's interest.

The book, "Mama, Can I Hold A Cloud" is a book about a young girl who is curious about the clouds above her. In describing the cloud, the young girl uses her vivid imagination to create a story that comes alive. This is a must read book for any child who delights in looking at the world and things around him/her in a creative way.

The book, "Look Out! Pigeons In The Park" is an exciting whimsical story of pigeon chatter. It is an exciting read that is colorful and fun for children to read.

The book, "The Story My Granddaddy Told Me" is about how necessary the moon, wind, sun, etc., are to our life. The book ends with noting the importance of responsibility for humans as well. This book is beautifully illustrated with nature scenes.

As you can see, we understand the importance of learning and making it fun. We would truly appreciate your support. Call us at the number below to schedule a time to talk. For additional information, please visit our website for more delightful educational products.

I look forward to speaking with you. Have an Amazing day!
